Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Have the American people the will to keep out of war? That is a question time alone can answer. Today, undoubtedly, more than ninety per cent of Americans passionately will that we shall do everything necessary to maintain peace But as the war wears on, will that will for peace be maintained? If the President succeeds in altering our present neutrality law so that all nations may come, buy and carry away arms in their own ships, and Germany finds a way to make us smart for it, or if the belligerents who are able to avail themselves of the arms cash and carry plan, finally run out of cash and our own manufacturers de mand credit for them, what then? Will our will for peace weaken?

Former President Hoover, who saw the last World War inferno at first hand, said over the radio on September 1:

"Amercia must keep out of this war. It can keep out of war. The President and Congress should be supported in every effort to keep us out. We can keep out if we have the national will to do so. We can be of more service to Europe and humanity if we preserve the vitality and strength of the United States for use in the period of peace that must sometime come. And we must keep out if we are to preserve for civilization the foundations of democracy and free men."

On September 3, 1939, President Roosevelt in a radio address explaining his position at length said:

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe it will."

He further said:

"And at this time let me make the simple plea that partisanship be adjourned and that national unity be the thought that underlies all others."

Walter Lippman, a prominent journalist and a former supporter of the President, wrote on September 5:

"There is no use mincing words —there is a deep feeling in this country that the President is often impulsive and frequently biased. It is necessary to say plainly that the President's radio address on Sunday evening will not reassure the American people.

"The address must be described as a failure on his part to see clearly, the situation, in which the nation finds itself—he is in the last year of his term of office; he has a divided party—in less than a year there will be nominating conventions; in fourteen months there will be a new administration— he does not have sufficient power to unite the people.

". . . he should call to his side —the ex-President of the United States, Mr. Hoover, because no other living American has greater experience of the problems of war."

Mr. Lippman also named other Democratic and Republican leaders who should be called in.

The American people must be on guard. Mr. Roosevelt's "hope" must be read in the light of his "Quarantine Dictators" speech of October 5, 1937; the Message to Congress on the United States participating in European conflict, with more than words and less than war; his statement to the Senate Military Affairs Committee that the American Frontier was somewhere in France; his proposals about aggressors, and various other expressions.

Americans will and should support the President if his policy is adamant to keep us out of war.

A war in Europe emphatically does not, however, adjourn our domestic problems which are the most critical in 70 years. They are yet to be solved. Unemployment, agriculture, deficits, New Deal undermining of the American System, are with us still. If they are to be properly solved in a democracy they must be hammered out upon the anvil of debate and by the ballot.

First and foremost our reason for keeping out of war is that we never again wish to see our youth slaughtered and maimed in a quarrel with which we have nothing to do. The grief of millions of mothers, is too much to pay for a war in which we have no vital interest. After such a war is done, and we wash our hands of it, as we did in the World War, we have nothing to enter in the ledger but gigantic losses. If we should enter this war the probability is that we should emerge with a despotism in government and an impoverishment that would hang around our necks for a quarter century.

And how would we finance another war? When we entered the last war our national debt was $1,219,413,967. The high point in public debt reached as a result of the World War was $26,210,281,258. When Mr. Roosevelt entered office March 4, 1933, the national debt was $20,937,350,964. This month that debt has grown to $40,887,090,190. Now it is generally agreed by those competent to comment on our financial situation that with this huge debt the United States could not finance another war except by (a) direct repudiation of the present debt, or (b) indirect repudiation through inflation or devaluation. Otherwise it means a direct levy on all property and savings, such as has been advocated by some New Dealers.

CHAMBER TO MEET TUESDAY

Nevada City Chamber of Commerce will hold another of its successful booster meetings on September 19, said Secretary H. F. Sofge, today.

According to President Gallagher, the sending of a large delegation to the next meeting of the California Highway Commission with the hope that action will be taken on improving the Nevada City-Downieville highway, will be discussed.

Recently the group made a "good will" tour to all the up country towns and it was found that at almost every stop that it was their hope also for improvement of this highway.

Another matter to be brought up is the new ski course to be built in such a location as to draw winter travel to Nevada City. The 17th District Fair and improvement of the Lava Cap mine road are other issues.

THREE FIRES AT NARROWS DAM

State Ranger Will F. Sharpe was called on to assist in extinguishing three fires yesterday near the Narrows Dam. They were supposed to have been set by hunters. One fire covered 1,500 acres, the second 200 acres and a third about 50 acres. The fires were in Yuba county but the Nevada City fire crew and another from Sierraville assisted state fire fighters from Dobbins, Smartville and Butte county. About 40 men were on the fire lines, and had the fires under control by evening.

The state division of forestry had a lightning fire near You Bet last Tuesday. It caught in a big pine snag and spread to dry leaves in one of the old hydraudic washes where it burned for several hours.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

Constable Henry Allen and assistant of the Chico district motored to Nevada City Saturday afternoon and returned with Dick Holloway wanted for alleged embezzlement. Holloway was held in the Nevada county jail for the Chico officers. Allen stopped a few minutes to visit with his brother, Robert Allen and Mrs. Allen on Boulder street.

RAINFALL AT TRUCKEE

Precipitation figures accumulated by District Ranger H. I. Snider at Truckee show a total of 19.53 inches for the period September, 1938 to August, 1939 as against 23.41, normal, as established by weather bureau records for the corresponding period. This resulted in a total shortage of 3.88 inches below normal. Oddly, according to Snider's figures, several individual months were above normal. October having 1.93 against .92. normal; September 4.76 against 4.28 normal; May, 1939, 1.59 against .81; July, .42 against .10 normal. December, 1938 was the dry month, having only .77 precipitation as against 3.88 normal.

Robert D. Proctor of Nevada City has been appointed to the rank of sergeant in the Ordnance Unit of the University of California R. O. T. C. Mr. Proctor is a student on the Berkeley campus of the University.

ROADS SURFACED BY SUPERVISOR ARBOGAST

Supervisor Cary S. Arbogast stated today that the Town Talk ridge road or old Rough and Ready road from the junction of the Nevada City -Grass Valley highway to the Hughes home has been surfaced. A part of the Gold Flat road from near Town Talk service station to the Stenger crossing has been surfaced. Some spots on the Gracey and Willow Valley roads have also been repaired.

NEW LAWS FOR AUTO DRIVERS IN EFFECT TUES.

Various motoring measures enacted by the 1939 legislature will go into effect Tuesday, September 19, ninety days from the date the session adjourned.

Parking tags will acquire new legal force; passing to the right on four-lane highways will be permitted; the speed limit in business districts will be increased, and other changes of varying importance will become effective.

The last legislature made fewer changes in the Vehicle Code than had been the case for a number of years, evidencing the well developed character the Code has attained, the California State Automobile Association commented in a statement today summarizing some of the principal new motoring measures. The summary follows:

NEW PARKING LAW: The registered owner of an illegally parked vehicle is made answerable for the violation. It is provided that proof that a vehicle was parked in violation of a parking regulation, together with proof that the defendant was at the time the registered owner, shall be prima facie evidence that he committed the offense. The owner's right to present evidence that he did not commit the violation is not impaired. The principal effect of the law is to compel response to parking tags, which heretofore have lacked such legal force.

PASSING ON THE RIGHT: On highways of four or more lanes it is made legal to pass to the right of another vehicle. Another amendment permits such passing on one way streets. Passing to the right was legal only on city streets wide enough for two lanes of traffic in each direction. The new law provides that in no case shall passing to the right be accomplished by driving on the shoulder of a highway.

BUSINESS DISTRICT SPEED LIMIT: 25 miles per hour is made the speed limit in business districts. The limit was 20 miles. The change gives business districts the same speed limit as that provided for residential districts. Other new speed limit provisions are:

School buses definitely restricted to 45 miles per hour when transporting any school child; trucks with a gross weight of 25,000 pounds or more restricted to 40 miles; automobiles with trailers or semi-trailers definitely restricted to 45 miles.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS: Street cars must obey traffic signals. The law was indefinite on that point. Timing of signals for movement of traffic at speeds in excess of the prima facie limits for the locality is permitted. The aim is to expedite flow of traffic on heavily traveled streets where there are frequent signalized intersections. Causing a traffic actuated signal to operate except for passage of vehicles or pedestrians is prohibited. The purpose is to stop false use of such signals, as by hitch hikers or street vendors seeking to halt traffic.

DRIVER'S LICENSES: Suspension of the driver's license is made mandatory for failure to answer a traffic law citation, and revocation of license if convicted of automobile theft or of reckless driving resulting in injury. A minimum penalty of five days imprisonment or $50 fine is provided for driving after being deprived of a license. The Department of Motor Vehicles is authorized to impose additional restrictions on granting licenses to minors between the ages of 14 and 15, and upon persons first learning to drive, regardless of age.

REGISTRATION: A "certificate of junk" is required for vehicles sold for that purpose and they can not be

DEER HUNTERS RETURN HIT OR MISS REPORTS

Deer hunting season opened Saturday and hunters brought in more fine bucks than in some time. Some exciting events were also related by returning huntsmen.

Mrs. James Cornell who went out with her husband and party and her first shot at a deer brought down a beauty. In this group were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Derbin, Mr. and Mrs. Al Silva. They hunted in the French Meadows section.

It remained for 73 year old Fred Koffeld, formerly of Forest who now resides below Grass Valley, to kill a 190 pound buck while his eight companions did not get one. All three shots he fired hit their mark. The deer was killed near Cisco. In this party were Louie Savio, Fred Kuffeld, Louie Orzalli, Bob Davis, R. K. Whitmore and brother in law, Tom Jones, Harry Silva and Charles Giani.

Ray Wilde and nephew, Mervin McClure, killed two bucks. Wilde's deer a four pointer, killed at Pike City while McClure's, a two pointer, was killed near Sierra City.

Dick Lane, local garage man, had the thrill of his life and won the title of "yodeling" Dick Lane instead of "Whispering", upon the insistence of Jovial Frank Williams, bus driver, who was in the hunting party.

Yesterday morning bright and early a party composed of Dick Lane, Frank Williams, John Gaskins, John and Frank Ghidotti, of this city and Alvin Kistle of Sacramento, hunted on the Washington Ridge. The men spread out two groups on each ridge and Lane was "on the drive" in high brush, when all the excitement started. The men were keenly excited and in tense moment heard two shots in rapid succession and some curdling yells. The hunters started running down the canyon thinking some one was shot. It is stated 75 years old John Ghidotti ran faster than the rest.

Dick Lane had a new bolt action rifle with which he was not familiar and had shot at a five point buck which was about 25 feet above on the mountain and it turned back. The buck headed for Lane's middle, the yell and another shot turned him to one side. Lane again shot at the disappearing buck. He told this correspondent he had a right to yell as the big buck was headed right at his tummy and he had backed up into brush until there were thorns in his back.

Dick got his dander up last evening and returned to hunt the buck but could not find him

Deputy Sheriff Carl Larsen who was out hunting with Max Solaro, brought down a fine buck on Sunday. H. Pierce and James Bird were successful in killing a deer apiece on the opening day of deer season. Donald Steger and City Judge Miles Coughlin each killed bucks during the past week end. Will Moulton was in a party of eleven hunters that killed two bucks on Sunday.

Elisha Curtis, Joe Muscardini, Joyce Henwood, Mrs. C. Muscardini, Mrs. Imogene Henwood, Miss June Curtis, Clemente Henwood were a party that hunted on Crystal Peak Sunday. Attorney Frank Finnegan brought in a four point buck Saturday the opening day. George R. Carter and party are still hunting. The party is staying at the Carter lodge on Donner Lake.

MRS. ANN DAVIES IS SUMMONED

Frank Davies, councilman, was called to Marysville Sunday because of the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Ann Davies.

Mrs. Davies was aged about 86 years and a pioneer of Virginia City, Nevada, where she resided with her husband many years, moving later to Forest City where Mr. Davies engaged in the livery business for years. Several years ago she moved to Marysville and resided there with her daughter, Miss Martha Davies.

Surviving her are the following sons and daughters, Miss Martha Davies, Marysville; Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Hollywood; Will Davies, Camino; Tom Davies, Alleghany, Frank Davies, Nevada City, besides a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren. Her late husband was at one time a foreman in the mines at Virginia City. The passing of this splendid pioneer woman will be mourned by scores.

PATROLS FOR FOREST DURING DEER SEASON

The Tahoe Forest personnel is now on a patrol basis, and has been since September 15, according to DeWitt Nelson, Forest Supervisor at Nevada City, who is assigning all available headquarters personnel to various parts of the Forest to supplement the usual patrol by District Rangers and Forest Guards. The increased influx of hunters expected this season, together with the abnormal fire season necessitates every precaution being taken, Nelson says, and he is providing for complete coverage of the Forest so that hunters and other users may be fully advised of the fire prevention regulations and their compliance therewith checked upon. In this way increased service can be given the hunters in furnishing them with desired information.

OLSON READY TO RAP TAXPAYERS

By CLEM WHITAKER

That special session of the State Legislature—now bobbing around on the political horizon, with no definite date set, but with all hands jockeying for position—promises to become a regular donnybrook fair!

Governor Olson, when the extraordinary session convenes, is expected to demand some $70,000,000 in new taxes—and that's enough money to provoke a brannigan even on Wall Street.

The governor, incensed at the refusal of the banks to buy state registered warrants—a refusal which was predicted largely on the uncertainty of the state's credit, due to the impending Ham and Eggs pension election—is expected to open a frontal attack on "Big Business" and "the money barons" in submitting his new tax program.

On the other side of the slate, however, taxpayers' organizations will likely level a barrage of criticism at the governor for asserted extravagance, charging that SRA expenditures jumped more than $10,000,000 during the fiscal year just ended and that the relief setup has been made a dumping ground for political appointments.

Charges also will be hurled, in all probability, as they have been already by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, that Governor Olson deliberately slashed interest rates on state warrants at a time when the state's credit was weak, and thereby precipitated the "money crisis" as a propaganda vehicle to build public support for his program of new taxes.

All in all, it looks like heads will be bashed, ugly words will be said—and the much maligned lawmakers will take almost as much punishment as the courageous Poles defending the beleaguered city of Warsaw. Worst of all, they'll take it all for nothing, as legislators get no extra pay for overtime!

Whether other issues (in addition to taxation) will be included in the call for the extraordinary legislative session is undetermined. Governor Olson, during the last few days, has been silent concerning his pet program to use the Central Valley Water Project as a springboard for a gigantic state public ownership power development—leading some leaders to conclude that he is afraid this issue, if raised at this time, would jeopardize his tax program. On the other hand, some of the reports from "The Corner Office" at Sacramento have indicated that he plans to renew his drive to give the state a monopoly of Workmen's Compensation Insurance, and that state medicine may also bob up on the special session agenda.

Best information, at the moment, indicates that the session will be called for sometime in November, but if the treasury dries up, it might be earlier—possibly during October!

Mrs. N. Wade of Sierra City and granddaughter, Miss Gertrude Wilde of Nevada City returned Saturday evening from a week's vacation spent on Treasure Island, trips about San Francisco and into Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Darke, Mrs. Nellie Clark and Mrs. Ann Peterson attended the Odd Fellows breakfast in Bear Valley Sunday and after a short time with the group of about 75 persons, went on to Reno.

LIGHTNING FIRES STILL BURNING

DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Tahoe National forest, stated this afternoon there were several holdover fires from a lightning storm of last week and that the sudden flareup of wind dried out the forests and started the fire spreading. In this group were, Big Oak Flat which is burning along Mosquito Ridge! Secret House on the Forest Hill divide 15 miles east of the city of Forest Hill. The worst fire is down in El Dorado Canyon one and a half miles east of Michigan Bluff. It has covered 150 acres in a steep brushy canyon and if it goes over the divide it will run into big timber. Forest service fire fighters have started a fire line along the top of the ridge to catch it as it comes up.

A fire was located on Diamond Creek near the Eagle Bird mine in the Washington district today and men are being sent to it.

Supervisor DeWitt Nelson and other members of his staff have been out on a two and a half day hunter patrol checking camps and deer kills. They have found hunters welcoming them into camps and everyone observing the game and fire laws.

PREFERS JAIL TO $2.50 FINE

Alfred Netz, who was arrested by Grass Valley officers Saturday evening at about 10:30 o'clock for failure to stop at a stop sign was fined $2.50 by Judge C. Morehouse and when he refused to pay the fine was given a five day jail sentence in the county jail. The youth who is under age decided to serve the time and started Sunday morning. He will get out of jail on September 20 his birthday and leave for the bay district where he will attend the wedding of his brother, Louis Netz.

Young Netz who has not been working for some time claims he did not see the new stop sign which is up on the sidewalk in a spot hard to see in day time. Forty five persons were caught that day for the same offense and fined for it.

RED CROSS CHAPTER MAY CALL MEETING

Community service and participation was the theme of a small but enthusiastic meeting of the Nevada City Red Cross chapter Thursday night. Thomas O. McCraney is the chairman.

Believing that few of those who contribute a dollar or more to the Red Cross annually realize that this contribution confers membership and the right to attend . meetings and have a voice in the affairs of the chapter, it was decided to make plans for a mass meeting at which members can learn more about what their money does for the community and what the chapter projects are.

Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger described the class in Home Nursing which is given at the high school under the auspices of the National Red Cross, with equipment furnished by the local Red Cross. She also mentioned the possibility of having a night school class for adults in this activity.

A brief, intensive course in advanced first aid, open to those who hold a certificate in the standard course, can be arranged for if a sufficient number of persons wish it. This would include training in artificial respiration, in which perfectly coordinated teamwork is necessary and those completing the course would be eligible to teach first aid. It would be very valuable to the community to have such trained persons available in an emergency, and it is hoped the class can be arranged,

Are You Registered?

Any citizen who is in doubt as to his eligibility to vote at the special election November 7th should immediately make sure that his registration is in good standing, Mrs. James K. Lytle, President of California Congress of Parents and Teachers urges in the following statement:

"Because of the vital importance of the issues which are to be decided at the special election on November 7th," Mrs Lytle said, "it is imperative that every qualified citizen be properly registered so that he can express his views on these issues.

"Since the elections last year, registration of many citizens has lapsed because of failure to vote at that time. Others have lost their right to vote because of removal to another precinct; and there are also many young citizens who will reach the voting age of twenty one years before November 7.

"Every citizen who has not registered or who is in the slightest doubt about the status of his registration, should act before September 28th. It is of utmost importance that the issues to be voted on at the special election shall be decided by a majority of the electorate. We cannot risk leaving the decision to a minority.

"I therefore urge every person who is in any doubt about his registration to check up at once with his county clerk, or any one of the many deputies now available at city halls and other public places."

Kathleen Norris Assails "Ham & Eggs"

Two men starting the "Ham and Eggs" idea. Their names are Roy G. Owens and Will H. Kindig.

Fattening upon the pathetic credulity of California's aged and poor and dependent, these promoters established a cent-a-day charge for members of their society. It doesn't sound like much. But last year when this measure was first placed before the voters those pennies, according to the promoters own statement, amount to more than $72,000.00 a month!

That ought to make the old-fashioned dealer in gold brick and walnut shells writhe in their graves with envy.

If the act passes, dictatorial powers are placed in the hands of one of these two men. With unbelievable audacity they have made that one of the clauses of the measure. This man would have greater authority than the Governor. California's public funds, more than seven hundred million dollars annually, would be placed in his hands.

He proposes to flood the state with paper money to carry on this frenzy of waste. Such paper money, to be known as "warrants", would naturally have no real value, and yet, so tremendous is the power that this dictator proposes to assume that he could actually force its acceptance, at least for the payment of taxes.

Only the desperation of poverty and old age could have given this preposterous scheme the headway it has already gained. And yet, poverty and old age would be far more heavily taxed for it than any other class. Such help as is being given our dependent people now would automatically stop, and the chaos of a demoralized currency would bear heavily upon every wage-earner in the state. The estimated tax on every employed worker in California would run more than $50.00 a month.

The "Ham and Eggs" Act would result in incalculable hardship, suffering, confusion and waste for California. It would bring comfort and security to nobody.

Nobody, that is, with the exception of Mr. Roy G. Owens and Mr. Will H. Kindig.

PREMARITAL LAW IN EFFECT TUES.

Both the physician's examination and the laboratory blood test required by California's premarital law must be made within 30 days before the day the marriage license is issued, Attorney General Earl Warren has ruled.

It will be the duty of the county clerk to examine each certificate to make sure that the examination and blood test were made not more than 30 days prior to the date of issuance of the marriage license, the opinion states.

The law goes into effect tomorrow (September 19.) Before a marriage license is issued each applicant must present to the county clerk a certificate signed by a doctor and the representative of a laboratory stating that he or she "is not infected with syphilis or is not in a stage of this disease which may become communicable to the marital partner."

Leaflets explaining the law have been delivered by the State Department of Public Health to all county clerks and health officers for distribution to the public. Another pamphlet of suggestions to doctors has been mailed 13,000 California physicians. Laboratories have been supplied with certificate and laboratory report forms.

Dr. W. M. Dickie, state health director, clarified two points upon which there has been wide misunderstanding:

1. A person may have syphilis and still marry if the disease is in a stage which may not become communicable to the marital partner.

2. The examination and blood test must be made within 30 days before the day the marriage license is issued, not 30 days before the date of issuance.

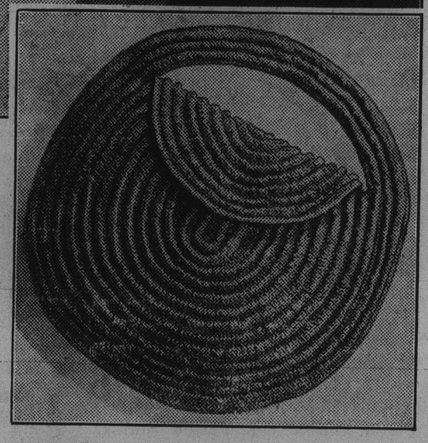
Crocheted Hats Economical and Smart



CROCHETING seems the ideal medium for the clever little hats we're tipping on our curls this summer. Here's one, a rolled toque, which boasts a matching round bag for a perfect alliance. And only five balls of mercerized crochet cotton are needed to make the two. Outfits like this will be entered in the fashion accessories class of the Third National Crochet Contest this fall. Directions for crochet set, and details of National Crochet Contest may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The National Crochet Bureau, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City. NEWSPAPERS AID SCHOOL STUDIES

(This article is supplied by Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, as a contribution to public information on education.)

Ninety per cent of adult Americans do read their newspapers, even in times of peace. Some skim the headlines and glance at the comic strips, others read thoroughly. If American schools intend to keep close connection with living youngsters, they will recognize the newspaper as a potent factor in education, adult and otherwise, and accordingly make use of it to widen horizons.

Already various techniques have been used successfully by teachers in some modern schools. Mr. B. J. Stolper, for example, who heads the English Department of the experimental Lincoln School at Teachers College, Columbia University, offers definite suggestions culled from his own experience.

In a great many towns and cities says Mr. Stolper, youngsters are taught to read a newspaper by being allotted a school page of their own in the local paper. This is not a page which places entire emphasis on the teacher, discussing transfers, appointments, new educational publications, etc., but one designed for the children—the what's doing in the grades sort of thing. The children themselves edit the sheet, make use of bylines, and of course take a mighty interest in goings on. Concise writing, correct punctuation and spelling become necessities.

PEOPLE IN NEWS

From a child's point of view, news as news just doesn't matter. You cannot tempt young children with a study of adult problems of politics and current events—even wars—merely by making the vocabulary simple. Papers have tried it and failed. But you can always interest boys and girls from the fourth grade up through high schools in people, and therefore in the things political and economic which happen to those people. Right now the chief device for interesting children in current world events is by reference to young refugees from foreign countries who are boarding a train, carrying school books and gas masks, will rivet their attention. Something important has happened in the life of another child somewhere, instantly Spain, Italy, Hitler, and Daladier are brought into the immediate ken of our own children.

One difficulty about their reading the newspapers from front page to last is that they read axe-murders and various other lurid happenings. Unfortunately such things are a part of life, and enter into radio, movies, and conversations quite as freely as into newspapers. One can, however, accent other phases of news.

SUBJECT MATTER

Connecting news with history and geogra by makes sense to child en. A teacher can get them into the news habit by comparing events distant in space and time with local and modern situations. After all, the most modern history text they can have is the newspaper.

Suppose that we are teaching a lesson in geography of central Europe. With the situation changing rapidly, maps in the atlas go out of date. We use the excellent maps turned out by newspapers every day. Suppose we are teaching arithmetic; we find material on the financial page. We connect with pages which a child has seen his parents study.

NEWS DRAMATIZED

Young children like to bring to class copies of the local news aper, hunt through it for an item which strikes them as dramatic, and make a play out of it. Certain items again, would be disastrous, but a skillful teacher can get across the idea that some unhappy events which come under the head of news are not suitable material for school dramatization. The teacher can explain that the American newspaper is the most honest agency in the world, and knows only one thing to do—gather news and report it exactly as it happens.

Let the youngsters choose their own items and then set up a play. Where does the event take place? When? Who are the actors? Every good news man gives names and addresses. Where is the struggle? Some of the characters want one thing, the others want the opposite. Who wins? Who loses? What do they say? Write down rapidly the time, place, characters; get together a cast. There is your stage. Go to it! A series of acts or dramatizations like that, and you have a rush for newspapers.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Another engrossing method of introducing the newspaper is suggested by Mr. Stolper. Take a poll in the class as to Republicans and Democrats. The teacher takes an item of political news, removes all bias from it and states it in a very colorless and matter of fact fashion. She is sure that she will find that particular item written up in each paper from a different viewpoint. Get the young readers to find the item in their home newspapers, and have them see the editorial comment that has crept in; that the Republican papers mildly color that flat statement of the teacher's in one way, and the Democrats color it in another. Then say, "you pick the item." It's a game. And it's part of anybody's education to understand that two editorials on the same news item may differ.

A teacher may divide a bulletin board into various sections such as (1) men and women in the news; (2) the most important person in today's paper; (3) the most exciting news; (4) the funniest item; (5) cartoon of the day. Gather as many papers as possible, hand out scissors and thumb tacks, and get out of the way.

Wise use of newspapers in the schools of today, Mr. Stolper believes, will develop better informed and more active citizens for the United States of tomorrow.

BIG CROWD AT TURTLE DERBY, NOR. SAN JUAN

The North San Juan turtle derby which was held with a good crowd in attendance yesterday, was won by Carl Edson, owner of the Willow Springs station. Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen was referee for the races. The dance held Saturday and Sunday evenings in Twamley hall were well attended. A free breakfast was served to all on Sunday morning.

ANTLERS WILL HONOR COACH AT DINNER

The Antlers lodge will honor the new high school coach, Ed Frantz with a dinner at the Elks club rooms next Wednesday evening. Male members of the school staffs and Elks are invited to attend. This is the first time the youthful Antlers have undertaken a dinner and a large attendance is expected.

Elton Tobiassen son of Sheriff and Mrs. Carl J. Tobiassen, came up from Agricultural College at Davis for the week end at home. He is studying animal husbandry, and taking up boxing in sports. He is delighted with his school work.

CASE DISMISSED

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 18.—Thursday morning at ten o'clock a preliminary examination was held in the case of the People vs. Adolph Striede, charged with assault with intent to commit murder. Deputy District Attorney Arthur Powell conducting the examination, Claude L. Davis the complaining witness and Jack Taylor being witnesses against the defendant Adolph Striede. The examination revealed that the trouble took place on the Middle Fork of the Yuba River where on Sunday morning, July 9, the men involved got into a brawl over the cooking of a kettle of stew. After listening to the evidence for almost two hours Judge A. M. Cleveland dismissed the case.

Shower and Party Given for Bride

The marriage of Mrs. Ivor Hanson, nee Mary Lou Draper was the incentive for a party Friday night at the home of Mrs. William Kesinger on Grove street.

The guests embroidered original designs on sugar sacks with some amusing and quite artistic results. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ivor Hanson and Mrs. Don Billick. A consolation prize was won by Mrs. Legg for the tiny size and originality of her design.

A co-operative gift, a lovely satin-covered down comforter and other gifts were presented to the bride.

Those present were Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. F. Breese, Mrs. O. McCraney, Mrs. Geo. Legg, Mrs. D. Billick, Mrs. Emma Foley, Mrs. Bonner, Mrs. Hal Draper, Mrs. Evans of Oakland, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. B. Williams, Mrs. Kensinger and daughter Lillian.

Others who presented gifts and were unable to attend were Mrs. Graham, Mrs. DeWitt Nelson, Miss Goyne, Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, Mrs. Tyhurst, Mrs. Jeannette Carter, Miss Flossie Angove, Mrs. Mary Warnecke, Miss Ruth Hogan, Miss Dorothy Waggoner and Mrs. C. Libbey.

Louis Netz to Wed Miss Josephine Scotti

Friends in Nevada City are receiving with pleasure the news of the coming marriage of Louis Netz to Miss Josephine Scotti of San Francisco next Saturday, September 20 in Saints Peter and Paul church.

About 400 guests have been invited to the wedding and a reception will be held afterwards. After a honeymoon in southern California they will come to Nevada City to reside.

Louis Netz is the son of Ludwig Netz of Nevada City He graduated from the local schools. He takes an active part in lodge affairs and is a past officer of Oustomah Lodge of Odd Fellows.

TO VISIT COLFAX O. E. S.

Members of Evangeline Chapter, O. E. S., have secured a bus to take them to a special meeting in Colfax on Wednesda evening. Mrs. Mary German is assisting in getting the bus. Miss Alice Cooper is secretary of the chapter. A good attendance is desired for this trip.

Dr. J. R. Ivey, Frank and Roland Wright and Guy Robinson hunted deer over the past week end in the Sierra City district.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Chatfield of Pike City visited their son and family and attended to business affairs in Nevada City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leiter had as week end guests Mr. Leiter's brothers, George and Clarence Leiter, and their wives all of Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williams will return today from a week end visit with relatives in the bay district.

John Muscardini of Nevada City has been pledged to Phi Kappa Tau fraternity on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Clara Starke over the week end were her cousins, Carl Grondona and Mr. and Mrs. John Zunino, of Oakland. Grondona is retired while Zunino is in the undertaking business. Zunoni has been heard many times with his accordion on radio station KLX. The party continued on to Reno.

HUNDRED ATTEND DINNER IN HONOR OF ENGLEBRIGHT

Harry L. Englebright at the National Hotel Saturday evening was the guest of honor and speaker at a dinner given by the California Hydraulic Miners Association. The representative was presented with an honorary life membership card, handsomely engraved upon a gold plate which had been fashioned from the small contributions of gold made by a half score of mining companies and individuals. The presentation was made by Superior Judge George L. Jones, who praised Mr. Englebright's long efforts on behalf of an industry which had colored and influenced his younger life.

In accepting the gold token of the appreciation and affection of the Association and of the general public, Congressman Engelbright traced the history of hydraulic mining from its chance inception in the early '50's, through its years of affluence and later vicissitudes; its complete prostration and recent revival through legislation which was enacted through his efforts.

Congressman Englebright closed his address by referring to the fact that he was to leave Sunday for Washington to participate in the extra session of Congress called by the President with relation to neutrality legislation. He described the existing neutrality law and the efforts which were to be made to have restored what is known as the "cash and carry" feature that expired by limitation last May. This, he explained, would enable the United States to sell war munitions to any or all of the belligerents on the basis of payment in this country and the buyer taking all of the risk of delivery.

The speaker did not indicate what action he believed Congress would take but declared his belief that whatever was done would be in the interest of keeping this country out of any European war.

The meeting which was presided over by President George Hallock with Attorney Charles Gilmore of Sacramento as toastmaster, had an attendance of about 100, representing the capacity of the National dining room.

References to the war crept into many of the talks, and all references to United States aloofness from it were applauded.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By BARBARA PHARISS

By having the opening date of the high school postponed a week, the students returned to a school building which was much improved. The new addition, consisting of the stage, dressing rooms, and shop, is now completed. The stage is being used as a music room, with the dressing rooms as rooms for individual practice work. The stage is separated from the gymnasium by large sliding doors but a beautiful curtain has been purchased. The stage will be used as a banquet hall. The students will now have a place to give plays, hold assemblies and a place to graduate. Friday assemblies and pep rallies will be held there as soon as chairs are obtained.

Shop, being a new subject, is giving the boys much pleasure. It is under the direction of Mr. Fiscus, and the classes are large. A complete set of new equipment has now arrived.

ASSEMBLY

To begin the school year, a general assembly was held. Mr. Kjorlie was in charge and introduced the old and new teachers, who spoke a few words in response.

After this, the principal introduced thel student body president, Margie Clark, who in turn introduced the other student body officials; Elsie Schreiber, Oscar Ingstrom and Adrianne Barnhart. Mrs. Flewellen then spoke a few words after which fifteen minute periods were held.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Although general opinion has been that the Nevada City high school football team will have a losing fight this year in tne league due to light players and lack of experience, it looks as though Coach Frantz may have a surprise to give the fans. The boys have been practising hard in the first two weeks, and there is promise that this will be one of the best teams Nevada City has had. Some experienced players have been lost, but the first year players are showing up well, while there are several new boys who have had experience. Bob Schmidt, from the Sierra high school, and George Broce from Gridley are both good players who have had experience. Bob will take the position of halfback and George will probably be tackle or end.

George Straach has had experience as an end and proved very good. He will resume his position this year. Another player of last year is a sophomore, Kirk Martin who played well in the past. He will probably be used as an end this season. Another player who saw a good deal of action last year is Albert Ponticelli. He has the weight that is a help in blocking, and has the reputation of a hard fighter. He will try at center and the guard positions. One who promises to be an outstanding player is a senior, Luburn Williams, "Buster" played the guard position last year. He will be used by Coach Frantz alternately as fullback and in a guard position.

Bob Mitchell and Oscar Ingstrom are newcomers who may be valuable to the team. Oscar is tall and has already shown he is a willing fighter. He will probably make an end. Ronald Joyal will do the kicking as halfback. He is a good passer and receiver.

Frank Angelini who has weight and some experience is out. There is also Dennis Coughlin, who is good at tackling; Frank Roberts, a sub last year; and George McCartney, a center; and George Davis who with Geo. Phillips will be used as quarterbacks. Due to a thumb injury George will be unable to play for some time yet.

With the new turf ready for use, most of the games have been scheduled as home games. The first game is scheduled with Roseville high school here next Saturday.

There have been two practice games with the Varsity vs. Alumni. The Alumni defeated the 'Jackets at both. A game was held after the brawl Friday. The score was 20 to 0.

CLASS ADVISORS

Class advisors have been appointed. They are as follows: Freshmen, Mr. Horn, sophomore, Mr. Smith, juniors, Miss Ruitter and seniors, Mrs Flewellen. These advisors presided over the first class meeting and are of assistance in advising and helping students throughout the school year.

TAMING THE FROSH

The freshmen have now been officially inducted into the student body. Thursday they were told by the seniors what the "law" was for Friday. They came dressed in short dresses, short pants, carrying dolls and flowers and looking very meek. At eight o'clock in the morning the fun began with the seniors word as "law." It continued throughout the day. In the morning an assembly was held. It was conducted by a committee of seniors who called freshmen up to the front to perform. The freshmen were good sports and everyone enjoyed it.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the annual Freshman-Sophomore brawl was held on the football field. There was competition between the boys and girls. Some of the games were: sack race, shoe race, old clothes race, dodge ball, water fight and tug of war. The sophomore and freshmen girls tied with two games each but the freshmen boys defeated the sophomore boys. The games were under the direction of Miss Ivey Ruitter and Coach Ed Frantz with the upper classmen watching the events.

CITY COUNCIL INSPECTS CHLORINATION PLANTS

Representatives of the Nevada City council returned Friday after visiting various chlorination plants in Northern California to determine the type of plant they wish to install locally.

Their inspection tour included Red Bluff, Chico and Oroville. Red Bluff has been using the same type plant for six years with satisfactory results. Chico and Oroville are also both satisfied with systems they installed for purifying their water, it is reported. In the party were Mayor Ben Hall, Councilmen Frank Davies, and Robert Nye and Clerk George Calanan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ehler of Martinez are spending their vacation in Nevada City with Mrs. Ehler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Netz.

Miss Ruth Rector, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector who completed her course in Columbia University, New York, for kindergarten work, has accepted a position in the Calistoga schools. She came to Nevada City for the week end after teaching one week in the school.
